The Interfaith Communities for Dialogue invites you to attend the Sunday, February 23, 2014 facilitated book discussion of Abraham H. Foxman and Christopher Wolf book – Viral Hate: Containing Its Spread on the Internet.

Viral Hate: Containing Its Spread on the Internet explores how individuals and organizations are using their First Amendment right to spread lies, hate, and bigotry through the internet. The book discusses the threat that these actions pose in the US and throughout the world. The book's authors investigate how social media and search engines giants as Facebook and Google are trying to balance the danger created by hateful vitriol web postings with the First Amendment and their companies' business demands. The book presents tools that are available to parents, educators and law enforcement officers but suggest that only public attention and action can stop the hate contagion before it spirals out of control.
